

Viva España! – brief summary

A brother and sister live in a small village of Madrid and are preparing for the village gala.

Nothing is as it seems and from what at first appears to be a sleepy country village the audience is quickly drawn into a world where paintings can talk, people climb ladders without leaning them against walls and the simple act of laying a table can turn into a juggling and balancing act .

There is even the chance to learn the Dali Directions Rap.

Oh and watch out for the weather forecast because in Madrid it's a real experience!

The audience can help all of this to happen through interacting in Spanish with the actors.

The performance includes:

Numbers

Food, the weather,
numbers, time, colours,
gender, parts of the body, directions,
pets, animals, the countryside,
members of family, rooms of the house

Note to teachers:

After many years of performing we have found that the methods we use encourage the students to join in freely. The enjoyment of the performance is enhanced when students realise how much Spanish they actually understand and can speak.
